DETAILED ACTION

Claims 25-48 are pending in this application. Amended claims 25-30, 32-37, 39-45 are noted.

The amendment dated 9/24/07 has been entered and carefully considered. The examiner appreciates the amendments to the specification and claims. In view of said amendments, the objection to the specification and the 112 rejection have been withdrawn.

Claims 46-48 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a nonelected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 25-29, 32-36, 39-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rzaad (5,156,882) in view of Barnes et al. (2005/0098115) for the reasons listed in the previous office action.

Claims 30-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rzaad (5,156,882) in view of Barnes et al. (2005/0098115) and further in view of Horiike et al. (5,185,132) for the reasons listed in the previous office action.

Claims 37-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rzaad (5,156,882) in view of Barnes et al. (2005/0098115) and further in view of David (6,197,120) for the reasons listed in the previous office action.

Claim 45 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rzaad (5,156,882) in view of Takano (6,828,235) for the reasons listed in the previous office action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 9/24/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the process of Rzaad must be done in vacuum and not at the claimed atmospheric pressure (pp.10-11) and would not look to Barnes, which teaches the use of atmospheric pressure, to arrive at the claimed invention (p.12 lines 12-14).

The examiner disagrees. It is noted that Rzaad teaches a plasma process at low pressures (col.6 lines 31-36). There is nothing in Rzaad showing the process to be inoperable at atmospheric pressures. Hence, one skilled in the art would know the advantages and disadvantages associated with the use of a vacuum and low processing temperatures and decide which parameters are desired. For example, at lower pressures, one can obtain a film with reduced contamination but with reduced throughput. Similarly, at lower processing temperatures, one can obtain reduced thermal budgets with thermally sensitive substrates but again with reduced throughput. Given these factors, the skilled artisan would know that using a plasma at both lower pressures and lower processing temperatures creates a very inefficient and costly process but can obtain the advantages of reduced contamination for thermally sensitive substrates. It is the examiner's position that since Rzaad is directed to plastic substrates, which are temperature sensitive, one skilled in the art would realize that higher pressures could neutralize the reduced throughput from the lower processing temperatures.

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are not deemed persuasive.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

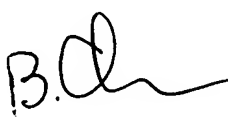

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
